or before six months after the date hereof.

Mr. Vaugl an was asked this evening whether the franchise as prepared was a ceptable to his company. Mr. Vaughan said it was sate factory, although there are more streets named in the franchise than there was any necessity of, and he has suggested that several streets be omitted, as the company does not propose to build on all the streets. These changes will be made before the council acts on the franchise.

SPIRITUALISM IN BUTTE.

Some Queer Goings On Alleged to Have Taken Piace on New Year's. BUTTE, Feb. 19.-The Progressive

Thinker, published at Chicago, has the fol-lowing regarding spiritualism in Butte: Mr. Smith, an engineer, was on duty, at work, giving us to understand that the gilts we were to receive were from the heavenly angels, our spirit guides, and, as they had no money in heaven, we must be satisfied with what they had to

To begin with, Mr. Workman (a fol-lower of Bob Ingersoli) was requested to take his son Roy by the band, go into the other room where my large driving gloves were, and let the boy take the right-hand glove and bring it out to the meanin and giove and bring it out to the medium and place it on her lap, which was done. The little fellow then put his hand into the glove and pulled out a very handsome New Year's card, with writing on the back of it in ink, "From Ole Built to Roy, Jan. 1st, 1891." Next Mr. Workman was told to take the boy to the medium's writing table, bring in the book, "What Women Should Know," turn to page seventy-five, and they find, would Mrs. Workman's present. Sure enough, there it was, a card, a beauty. Each time a card was brought in the medium would become man's present. Sure enough, there it was, a card, a beauty. Each time a card was brought in the medium would become rational and get herself a little excited looking for her gift. The next order was for Mr. Woekman to take his wife to the cupboard to the right hand drawer and get a napkin in the right hand corner, in it they would find a present from my spirit wife to Mr. Workman with writing on, "From Nelhe to Mr. J. A. Workman, January 1, 1891." The next order was for Mr. and Mrs. Workman to go and get the book, "A Golden Heart," that was in the kitchen, bring it in to the medium, place it on her lap, turn to page 160, which was done, and a very handsome New Year's card was found, with the following on the front in gold letters: "Thy happiness increases in the New Year." On the back, written in ink, was to my daughter (the medium): "Susannah, from her mother, Emma Barber, January 1, 1891." The next order was to go behind the kitchen door, to the medium's plaid skirt; they would find it pinned up at the side. Mr. and Mrs. Workman went and got the gift, a pretty New Year's card with the following lines on the front, with my daughter's name at the bottom: "This New Year's day, accept, 1 pray, a wish, true, warm and kind, that happiness your life may bless, from me, the undersigned: Lottie." That made the sixth present I have received from my spirit-wife and children and the first present from my present wife, the medium. At 7:30 in the evening Mr. Joseph J. Smith came to get his present, as promised. They found it in a tin wife, the medium. At 7:30 in the evening Mr. Joseph J. Smith came to get his present, as promised. They found it in a tin wife, the medium. wife, the medium. At 7:30 in the evening Mr. Joseph J. Smith came to get his present, as promised. They found it in a tin pail, with the following written in ink: "To Joseph J. Smith, from old Abe Lincoln, the rail-splitter, Jan. 1st, 1891." (I forgot to mention that Lizst, the great piano player, was the gentleman who gave Mrs. Workman her gift.) A banjo and guitar were placed under the table in the same style that Mrs. Cushman of Charlestown, Mass., used to place her guitar. Roy held the banjo, Mr. Workman the guitar; both were played on. Then we placed the guitar, two banjos and violin on the table for a dark scance. The spirits had a pienic with the instruments, then touched all hands; even slapped Mr. Smith on the back, then on the table, with touched all hands; even slapped Mr. Smith on the back, then on the table, with a bang. Next we went to the piano, shut it down, and the spirits had a good time playing a few chords on it. Nothing can shake Mr. Workman's faith in spiritualism from this on. "Oh," he said, "ere, I have always been an unbeliever in a future existence ail these long years; to see what I have this day and night, with both of my eyes wide open, and not believe in a hereafter, that my folks who have passed away can communicate with

"NATURAL GAS." Donnelly's Great Laughing Success at

Maguire's Next Week. BUTTE, Feb. 19.-Donnelly & Girard. the universal favorites, will present for the first time in Butte that great laughing success, "Natural Gas," at Maguire's opera house for two nights only, Monday and Tuesday, February 23 and 24. The play is full of music, songs, dances, funny specialties, comical situations, beautiful costumes and pretty faces. The follow-ing is from the New York Tribune: Euing is from the New York Tribune: Eugene Tompkins' management of the Fifth Avenue theater was successfully begun by the first production in the city of Grattan Do-neily's musical farce, "Natural Gas." The object of "Natural Gas" is to amuse. The author, managers and a great mass of theater-goers are satisfied. "Natural Gas" is the best of its class, for while it has no more merit in dialogue than some of its predecessors, it has a constant flow of spirited and laugh-provoking action. A company of extremely clever people are engaged in the performclever people are engaged in the perform-ance. Henry V. Donnelly is an excellent comedian and mimic, while Eddie Grard is a remarkable comedian-acrobat, dancer and imitator of monkey antics. The piece was warmly received by an audi-nce which tested the capacity of the house and will doubtiess be received for

IT IS NOT TRUE.

Mr. Cunningham Has Not Left the State, But Is Still in Butte.

BUTTE, Feb. 19 .- In the STANDARD of Wednesday was printed an interview made by Chancellor O'Donnell to a STANDARD reporter in connection with the suit brought by Lucy Miller against McBerde & Haldern. In the course of the interview Mr. O'Donnell made a statement to the effect that Mr. P. J. Cunningham, the well known mining man, had left the state and is not worth a nickle. The best evidence that this statement of Mr. O'Donneil's is untrue is the fact that Mr. Cunningham is still in this city, and furthermore it can be attested by his host of friends and acquaintances that for the past two years he has not been absent from his position as a mine manage Mr. from his position as a mine manager. Mr. Cunningham is held in the highest respect and esteem by the mining men of this country and all others with whom he

The New Health Ordinance Goes Into Effect To-Morrow-Fire De-partment Affairs-Money for the City Treasury.

BUTTE, Feb. 19.-Proprietors of dairies and markets must get their eyes peeled and watch out for the sanitary policeman. The new health ordinance will go into effeet by Saturday, and some of those con-cerned will be hauled up short if they don't look out. All chickens that are brought into the city undrawn after this ordinance goes into effect will be seized and thrown on the manure piles. Yet none of the marketmen have as yet acied none of the marketmen have as yet acted as though they were aware that such an ordinance had been passed. They will save money, however, by arranging with their shippers at once to have all poultry drawn before being shipped to Batte.

The milkmen, too, will have to be careful. Milk will be seized that is from cows fed on the city dumping ground or on manure piles. The ordinance passed the council last night and will be enforced as soon as it is printed, which will be tomorrow or Saturday.

With all the agitation about the fire marshal and the fire department, it is extremely doubtful if any change will be made before the end of the present municipal year. Mayor Valiton is of the opinion that Fire Marshal Jordan cannot be relieved from his position until the close of the term for which he was elected, except it be for cause, and it would be necessary to have a trial in order to determine the justice of the cause. Mr. Jordan was elected for a year, and the year will not be up until May.

When the aerial ladder arrives, it will be necessary to have at least 10 paid firemen on the list. It will require four firemen and a driver for the aerial ladder, four for the hose cart, and one man to remain at the fire house. If it is decided to keep a paid fireman at the brigade house, still more will be required. municipal year. Mayor Valiton is of the

It is expected that the big ladder and truck will be shipped for Butte in a very few days now. The city has been notified by the Babcock company that the ladder it has purchased is an infringement of patent. At first it was thought that this would dispose of the ladder question, but the chief owner in the company from which the ladder is purchased has given a bond sufficient to hold the city harm-

Architect McDevitt returned from Great Falls last evening. A reporter to-day asked for his statement in answer to day asked for his statement in answer to the letter sent to the council last evening by Jell & McLean, contractors for the new city hall. Mr. McDevitt said that he is looking closely after the interests of the city and will see that the city gets none the wost of it. The contract, Mr. McDevitt says, calls for a complete building, and a complete building means everything. Mr. McDevitt will see that the building is satisfactory in all respects before it is accepted. It is likely that the city government will move on April 1.

Mayor Valiton is of the opinion that the city tax next year should not be more than 5½ mills, whereas it was 8½ mills the past year. This change can be made and still run the city on as liberal a basis as at present. The fire apparatus, city hall furniture, crematory, and other such apparatus purchased the past year will not have to be bought the coming year. Besides the police department can be made to afford a revenue to the city, instead of being an expense to the city. With the contemplated change in the fee system, every offender will have to pay $5 to the city instead of $1, and this change of itself will be enough to give the city government a handsome profit. the city tax next year should not be more

A large number of tickets were sold and the small attendance was attributed to the prevailing epidemic of sickness. The floor was under the management of F. B.
